1. Chairman Opens the USSA Board Meeting: Dexter Paine

   Dexter Paine called the meeting to order and asked Alex Natt to take a roll call of the board members present.
2. Roll Call of USSA Board Members & Establishment of Quorum: Alex Natt

Alex Natt read the names of the members of the USSA Board of Directors and confirmed the presence of a quorum, with 13 voting members and one non-voting member in attendance. He advised the participants to mute their phones when they were not addressing the board. He also admonished the board to not put their phones on hold or we would have music playing in the background of the call.

3. USSA May 2012 Meeting Minutes' Approval: Alex Natt

Paine then asked Natt to walk through the approval for the meeting minutes and Natt stated that the meeting minutes had been distributed and asked if there were any changes; and if not, he asked for a motion to approve the May 2012 USSA meeting minutes as presented.

Motion #1: To approve the USSA Board of Directors’ meeting minutes as presented.

M/S/C – Bob Dart/Hank Tauber, approved by acclamation

4. USSA Chairman’s Report: Dexter Paine

Paine thanked everyone for taking the time to be on the call when many were entering the busy season. Paine stated that he noted that Andy McLane was not on the distribution list and confirmed that the USSA had a new board member from the Foundation side. Andy McLane was replacing Andy Daly; McLane had been a longstanding member of the Foundation board. He noted that many of the board members knew him and that he anticipated that McLane would be a great board member. He added that McLane had been very supportive of, and very active with, the organization at the Foundation level.

Paine said that he would make his comments brief and welcomed the board to ask any questions. He said that we had an incredible amount going on with the ski, snowboarding and freeskiing teams right now. There was a lot going on across all our sports. It was very exciting, but a bit overwhelming as well.

The first thing he wanted to address was that we’d made a concerted effort to try to influence the organizations that influenced our success, organizations such as the USOC and the FIS; and in that vein, we had nominated Bill Marolt for a position on the USOC Board and he was one of two finalists. Marolt had been nominated by the USSA and his nomination was under consideration by the USOC Nominating Committee. The selection would be between Marolt and the Athletic Director of Notre Dame. Paine noted that he believed that Marolt, as the most successful CEO in the USOC organization, and given his 12 years as AD at Colorado, made him the most qualified candidate. He stated that there were a number of very qualified candidates but we believed Marolt was very well positioned to be on that board.

On the USOC board, we had Nina Kemppel; so should Marolt be elected, between the two, snow sports would be very well represented within the USOC. Paine mentioned that he, Luke Bodensteiner and Bill Marolt had just attended the USOC Assembly and he complimented the USOC on having its act together.

Paine then mentioned that, as related to the CEO search, a committee was being formed and he stated that he had spoken with a few individuals on this board about being part of that committee. That committee would choose a search consultant and would begin its work very quickly with the idea of bringing in someone who would work with Marolt for a period of time and then take over when Marolt retired after Sochi. We had undertaken the transition process for a couple of years and had carefully thought through this process. Marolt would continue for a period of two years as a consultant to the organization, working with us in his FIS role and on the Executive Committee for Vail 2015, and his role as, hopefully, a USOC board member.
Paine addressed the fact that the USSA would be undertaking a new capital campaign, wherein Marolt would be the face of that campaign, and continue to work with the board and the new CEO on that project.

He indicated that the next project was that we were in the process of working with McKinsey, stating that McKinsey and Company was the most well known consulting agency in the world.
We were working with them on a project to look at our regional programs and how we were set up, as the world had changed in terms of technology and they would focus on our clubs and how to best communicate with them. The goal was to figure out a more efficient way to work with our clubs and academies to enhance all of our sports going forward. That project was kicking off over the next few months.

McKinsey had agreed to do this work pro bono. A number of people at McKinsey who were active in skiing would be working with us. We were excited about this and the genesis was due to some tensions that we had, particularly with the east, in terms of how the regional and club system was currently working. He stated that we needed to do some things to improve ourselves and things to improve the system. We were incredibly lucky that McKinsey had agreed to work with us on a non-compensation basis, with the ultimate goal of how to have the best development clubs and regional programs in the world. That was what they would look at and we would come back to the board and keep you updated as we worked through this process.

Finally, and Marolt would address this, we were kicking off a capital campaign focused on education with perhaps some part of it focused on development as well. We saw this as the next logical step in the provision of our athletes with increased opportunities and as an enhancement to keep them in the sport longer. We thought this was complementary to everything that we were currently doing with our elite programs.

Paine said he was happy to answer any questions now or take calls or email from the board after the meeting or at any time, and turned the meeting over to Bill Marolt.

5. USSA Chief Executive Officer's Report: Bill Marolt

Marolt thanked Paine and said that he would address where we were in terms of the organization with our elite teams, development, infrastructure and the endowment as well as address a few comments on the FIS and the USOC.

Marolt said that, as we sat here today, from the business and financial sides, we were on track to have a good year-end position, as we'd had over the last 16 years. We came off a good year and we'd taken that base to move ahead into this season.

He noted that two vice presidents had been hired. Mike Jaquet was the new VP, Chief Marketing Officer, who had been on staff for three months and hit the ground running, doing a strong job. He mentioned that Jaquet had grown up in Sun Valley and had quite a career in publishing, sales, television and events. He, with his staff, had done a robust job in developing strong partnership renewals and done an admirable job in new sales and growth which was what was needed, as we were looking at numbers that were starting to approach where we were in early 2000 and that was a good sign for our future.

Marolt stated that Jaquet had done an admirable job in television programming coverage, and for those of you looking at the schedule in the handout, this was the first time in history with two live shows, a women's slalom in Aspen and a men's GS in Vail. We were thrilled to be in two key resorts with our top athletes. In addition, we've traditionally done a week delay in most of our programs and this year, we would have next day coverage with 16 shows. What's critical there is that it makes us more live, more relevant and more marketable. What we are seeing as it relates to television is one of the valuable resources that Michael brings to the organization. This will continue to evolve and we will continue to see more live and better programming as we moved forward to the Olympic year.

In addition, Ruth Flanagan became the VP of the Foundation; she worked for us for a number of years and she has taken this position and jumped in and is doing a very able job. He was delighted with her and the staff's work to date. He expressed that we were looking at the gold pass program as the cornerstone of the fundraising program, and were celebrating the 40th anniversary of this program. This year was especially exciting because we developed new technology for the gold pass holders; now, at most areas of the country, we will have direct to lift access and won't have to stop at the ticket window to pick up a daily pass. We were seeing strong results with our gold pass program. Our goal was to reach the 400 level.

Team Sochi, which is our Olympic hospitality program started in 2002, has continued to grow and ultimately has helped to provide the incremental revenue needed to fund Athletics. The target was 50 packages and we were currently at 44. We had potential for the 50 and hoped to exceed that number. He noted that Sochi would be an interesting Olympic Games. All the facilities would be brand new. We were optimistic that everyone would enjoy what they would see and that it would be a unique experience.

Marolt then moved to the elite teams and stated that we had good training, but the snow had not been as good in South America and New Zealand as the past couple of years; in spite of that, the training has been good; the athletes were motivated, maintained positive attitudes, and the coaches were doing a commendable job and the program directors were doing a really good job of providing leadership and direction. This was one of the strengths of the company.

We had good early season success in Olympic qualifiers in freeskiing and snowboarding, taking four of six wins in those events. The other exciting news was that, over the past three years, we were working on the idea of developing a high school here in Park City and we looked at a number of models and ended up with a partnership with a company called DeVry, basically an on-line program with a blended approach so that the athletes were actually in class here down the hall in the Center of Excellence as we speak.

As we looked at our teams and more and more athletes were coming onto the team at high school age, we believed that this academic model combined with what we were doing with Westminster, Dartmouth and so on would develop an academic pipeline that overlaid the athletic pipeline and provide a great combination of athletics and academics, which would equate with a higher level of athletic success.

In development throughout the years, and all of us on this board who worked at the local clubs, or universities or with the US team, had long talked about development. A year and a half ago, we looked at our strengths and what we needed to do as we moved to 2014, 2018 and 2022. We'd always had great athletes but what we needed to make sure was that we delivered the programs that led to the depth needed to really compete on the world stage year in and year out.

We focused on what we call sport development, working directly with clubs to enhance their efforts and to be a resource. We developed programs such as SkillsQuest which addresses the needs of the coaches to teach better skills and the athletes to learn better skills. We had a strong growth in coaches' education and certification. Jon Nolting had done a terrific job with that program. Marolt stated that he had attended a clinic in Boston, held in conjunction with a team fundraising event, and that the content and delivery were unquestionably on target and he was encouraged by what we were doing there.

The next area, SafeSport, was an effort on the part of the USSA and he added that the USSA had been on the leading edge of this, but the USOC, due to the problems that occurred in swimming, took a lead role to provide athletes with a safe environment in which to train and to compete and have a positive productive environment for athletes to enable them to become Olympians.

Fast Start education for coaches he said was part of our development program and ensured that every one of our certified coaches had some form of basic information and education as it related to SafeSport and concussion management and as it related to just doing a better job of being an entry-level coach. This program was begun this fall. It's an on-line program that the coaches go through before they can become members.

The eastern alpine issue, which Paine alluded to and the McKinsey project would address, was the result of an ongoing discussion with the east over the past three months. This dialogue related to the staffing and servicing we were providing to the region. The discussions had been constructive and ultimately we would have a positive outcome and create better partnerships with the clubs, not only in the east, but throughout the country; and for development, positively impact our ability to deliver that content to the local clubs.

Looking at infrastructure at Copper Mountain where we invested with them and built a full downhill training facility; we were going into year two with that project. As of this call, we were 80% ready right now to start downhill training, which was a phenomenal accomplishment. Copper Mountain staff and crew had totally bought into this and we made good improvements over the summer. Marolt said that, while we might not have gotten as good training in Chile this summer as in the past, we now had this facility to catch up and clean up anything we missed during the summer. There was an anticipated opening of October 31. Copper Mountain season pass holders would have the opportunity to sign up to ski with the US Ski Team and we would offer that same opportunity to some of our USSA members. It'll be a fun day with the athletes skiing with some of our fans and members.

As Paine mentioned, we had good success with capital projects in the past. Our Legacy Campaign was now complete; we’d done the Copper Project; and now we wanted to take the next step to provide support to our Team Academy as well as to our older athletes. We were working on the concept of an educational endowment and at the same time, include support for our development athletes. This potentially could be a significant endowment. We've retained a consulting firm based in New York and Washington DC, Orr Associates (OAI). Their principal is Steve Orr, who is a skier and is enthusiastic about consulting with us and helping to drive this campaign. This would be a real opportunity for us to build on our athletic and academic pipelines and, ultimately, provide the support and resources needed as we moved forward.

Marolt stated that, as a member of the FIS Council, we had a good partnership with the FIS. That partnership had resulted in more and better World Cups in this country, particularly in freeskiing and snowboarding. We continued to work diligently on our alpine World Cups and Aspen and Beaver Creek and looking down the road all of this enhanced our ability to serve our athletes.

He remarked that the FIS made some changes in minimum age for FIS competition, which they designated as U16 and U18. USSA made an outstanding effort to accommodate this change concurrently, which was a significant change, and made that happen.

At the same time, we were working closely with Vail/Beaver Creek and the FIS on the 2015 FIS Alpine World Championships. The physical work being done there with the new construction of the women's downhill were pretty much completed. They were making changes in the finish area as well. The FIS was generally happy with the work of the Organizing Committee and he anticipated that this would be an outstanding world championship and one that gave us a focus as we lead on out to 2018.

As Paine mentioned, we did have a very strong partnership with the US Olympic Committee. It was the strongest it had ever been. 15% of our annual revenue came from the USOC. That allocation was a result of our ability to present to them a plan that made sense and where they could see that their support of our teams was based on performance. That's where the USOC wanted to be. He said that we had good alignment of their mission with ours. Our vision was best in the world and the USOC's was sustained competitive excellence. We were in total alignment. They understood what they could best provide to us and how they best could support us.

We had a great Olympics in Vancouver and the USOC had tremendous success in London and that was a direct result of their focus on sustained competitive excellence. As we looked forward to Sochi he believed that partnership would continue to grow and that we would see incremental support that would allow us to be best in the world in 2014.

Larry Probst, president of the board, and Scott Blackmun, the Executive Director, were doing a terrific job of leadership decisions with the staff that they had hired and the programs that they were delivering. He foretold that our relationship would continue to grow and get even better.

He added one final note, that the board members should all have a copy of the annual report. It illustrated in pretty good detail what we'd done this past year and he asked everyone to take some time to go through it. He said that it would serve us well in sales and marketing and fundraising, and in telling our story.

That concluded his report and he said he was happy to answer any questions.

Paine said that we would also have some time at the end to answer questions, but if the board had any questions for Marolt at this time, they should feel free to ask them.

Pained asked Lampe to walk through the financial projections.

6. USSA Financial Report: Mark Lampe

Lampe reported that the first slide of FY '12 Actuals was very similar to the slide that they had seen at the May board meeting with FY '12 finalized to where we finally ended up. He commented that we usually present this slide by department or area of responsibility and this reflected how we managed the company by those departments. We finished with an operating surplus of $52,000.

Lampe said he wanted to highlight the continued growth in the elite athletic programs, growing from 9.997 M in FY '10 to 10.649 M in FY '11; and 12.489 M in FY '12. As you might recall from the meeting, leading into FY '09/10 we had to take a couple million out of athletic programs and were just now starting to add that back in. Not everything was added back in, unfortunately, because at the same time we started dealing with more sports and, obviously, higher costs.

He stated that you could see the comparatives in our revenue line items with Sales & Marketing taking a dip in FY '11, which was fairly typical post-Olympics. We were also investing additional costs to replace cuts made in FY '09/10. FY '12 got us about even with where we were in FY '10 and as reported at the May meeting, we were ready to see some growth due to those investments.

Foundation was flat for FY '10/11 and then got momentum going in FY '12 to score their second best year ever. Flanagan's team had taken on that challenge and did a really great job of staying in touch, particularly with our trustee and Inner Circle base, to ensure that pledged gifts were coming in timely and that led to a very good year there.

The Team Sochi program that Marolt touched on had 34 pledged in FY '11 and six more pledged in FY '12 to get us to 40; and he would touch on how we were doing in FY '13 on the next slide.
Member dues and fees took a small dip primarily due to the weather, with the lack of snow hurting renewals and head tax revenue.

Other revenue had a spike over the last two years as a result of a lot of unique one-time gifts. Those were big contributors for keeping the athletic program growing over that period.

Moving forward to the FY '13 slide, Sales and Marketing was looking to show at least $2 million of growth. It had the highest level of under contract to open the year that we'd seen in the last 15 years. So, it was positioned nicely for some good growth. All renewals were done, basically, leading into May, with some fine tuning with Audi, but the commitment was there, and that allowed the team to focus on new deals.

In this forecast we have $1.3 million that has been finalized or is very close to being finalized, encompassing ten different deals there, which brings us to the $7.3 million level, net of expenses, and $9.8 million before fulfillment expenses are deducted against it. The target is to get to $10.1 million. There were seven more deals being fervently worked on with a worth of $800,000. If half that amount was reached, Sales and Marketing would achieve the target.

On the Foundation side, we are already showing small year-over-year growth. The budget number assumes that all 400 gifts from the Gold Pass program are secured, and that is a huge target. Currently, there were 50 more donations needed to get to this level. He indicated that we would see a tighter forecast at the time of the Foundation trustees' meeting in Vail. The potential is there to grow above the current forecast. From the monthly reviews, they had a lot of activity planned to grow that number.

On the Sochi program, this was catching some good momentum again. Flanagan and team have secured four more pledges already this summer, with an additional eight promising targets, which could get us above the initial goal of 50. The one area of challenge with this is that, in the initial negotiations with the hospitality vendors, the pricing was enormously high on this trip, so we have to work very hard to either beat that pricing down or find a different way to handle the costs or that would put a dent in our net revenue from the program.

As far as the rest of it, Marolt touched on the USOC grants and that was up a little over budget and that was a reflection of support of the new sports of about $500,000 and another $100,000 for new projects which Bodensteiner pushed the USOC hard to get certain projects supported.

Other revenue is settling back into its traditional level. Elite athletic program budgets are up year over year and we were looking at just over $13 million. Domestic programs were also climbing as we were reinvesting there. Those were areas that had taken hits as well in FY '09/10, when we cut back on staffing and programs, and we were now focused on getting that back. You heard a lot of what would be added back in during Bill Marolt's report.

We were benefitting in the Center of Excellence expenses with interest rates still staying down, so that was to our benefit. Unfortunately, that would expire next May when we would be back to our fixed rate. So we would have a good 12 month period of the low floating interest rate, then we would be back in the $2.2 million range of expenses as in FY ‘10.

He indicated that was primarily the forecast going forward and he stated that we were showing a small deficit right now but that it was much smaller than was typically projected at this time of the year. He said that the company had upsides in both Sales & Marketing and the Foundation and we would continue to manage expenses as best as we could. As we gained momentum and got out of deficit and into surplus, then we would start adding in mid-year initiatives as Luke Bodensteiner had a stack lined up for Athletics; so those were, as usual, in our focus.

Lampe covered the endowment balances as of the end of August:
Lampe stated that we’d had some good investment earnings this summer and, actually, better than many of us might have expected. The board approved the 5% annual Athletic grant for FY ’13 in accordance with the Investment Policy, which had been re-written in January and February of last year. Our advisors had been following through on that rewrite and deploying investments into the new target ranges. He said that was going well and there would be a lengthier report from J. Crandall at the time of the Foundation trustee meetings in December.

The next slide was a review of the endowment earnings through August. Earnings for calendar 2012 were $2.2 million (6%) and essentially flat in the four months of the new fiscal year (.6%). He indicated that the end of May and early June took a beating and it had climbed its way back out. He said that the investment policy set this investment allocation basically at a beta of one half of the S&P and that was about how the calendar was tracking. We were virtually even with the S&P in this fiscal year. He mentioned that the investment managers had moved into more domestic equity positions as part of the ongoing re-allocation.

He stated that concluded his report and that he was happy to field any questions. There were no questions, so Paine asked Natt for the legal report.

7. Legal and Judicial Reports: Alex Natt

Natt stated that the USSA was notified in July of this year that one of its member officials, a 78 year old man by the name of Jack Edwin Gravenmier of Charleston, WV was arrested in St. Louis, in the eastern district of Missouri traveling across state lines in an alleged attempt to have sex with a 14 year old boy. He was arrested by the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force of the Dept. of Justice and has been incarcerated since then.

Natt stated that he spoke with the US Assistant Attorney in the Eastern district yesterday and Gravenmier was scheduled to go to trial this week and would likely result in a plea. He is facing indictment in MO, which would put him in jail for 70 years and there is also an indictment in WV on similar charges, based on the sexual charges and the creation of pornography.

Natt stated that, from our perspective, he was arrested on February 11, 2012 and the USSA was not notified, even Gravenmier’s arrest was reported in press in West Virginia, until an anonymous notification in late June; obviously there was a lag reporting period to us that is of concern. In this instance, he was incarcerated and remains incarcerated so there was no further danger to any USSA athletes. Mr. Natt made it clear that USSA has no evidence that any USSA athletes were preyed upon by Mr. Gravenmier, but we will continue to conduct an investigation.

Natt stated that he had discussed this case with Marolt and that he would recommend once the plea is entered, that Mr. Gravenmier be banned for life, that his ban be published to the membership and use that as an opportunity to highlight the necessity of paying attention to the USSA’s and the USOC’s safe sport policies, and reporting things of concern.

Kipp Nelson asked what position this individual held. Natt replied that he was a technical delegate and he worked mostly in the Southern Alpine Racing Association. He had traveled to other areas within our organization; in 2012 he was a TD for some races in Massachusetts. He was a long-time technical delegate. Nelson asked if he had perhaps been a coach. Natt did not know, but for the last several years he held an officials license as a TD.
Natt affirmed that was one of the items we background screened against and presumably because he was never charged or convicted of anything like this before, he did not get red lighted by the background screening.

Paine said that he thought it was fair to say that we had over time a couple of individuals with whom we've had to deal who have come up as red lights on our background screening and that we dealt with them in what was an appropriate manner at that time.

Natt concurred that if someone was red lighted they could try to appeal that through the background screening company; but if they were red lighted, they were simply not eligible to be members so USSA has not had to make those kinds of determinations in those situations.

He said that was his legal report but that we had some corporate authority under new business if Paine would like him to move onto that.

8. USSA New Business: Dexter Paine

Paine said that before moving onto the topics, he asked if Andrew Johnson had joined the teleconference. He noted that Johnson was our USOC AAC rep and that he had done a great job since taking over from Nina Kemppel, who went on the USOC board. Johnson was stepping down in January and Chip Knight, whom many of you knew, would be taking over as our representative and Grete Eliassen would be the alternate. Paine wanted to be on the record thanking Johnson for his efforts in serving as our AAC rep, which he commented was a tough job at times, and he'd done a great job.

USSA CORPORATE RESOLUTION & OFFICER AUTHORITY (Addendum B)

Alex Natt addressed the board stating that on page 3 of the meeting materials, there was the corporate resolution and officer authority, and anyone who had been on the board for a while was familiar with these documents. These were the ongoing resolutions that our lenders and others needed on an annual basis so that Marolt and Lampe could borrow and dispense the assets of the corporation in their fiduciary capacity, subject to the business judgment rule. He said they would be appended to the meeting minutes and asked for a motion to approve the USSA Corporate Resolution and Officer Authority to conduct the business of the USSA Corporation & its Affiliates.

Motion # 2: Motion to ratify the USSA Corporate Resolution & Officer Authority to conduct the business of the USSA Corporation & its Affiliates.

M/S/C – Hank Tauber/Dexter Paine, approved by acclamation

Natt and Paine asked Bodensteiner to cover the next topics.

SNOWBOARDING OWG SELECTION CRITERIA (Addendum C)

ALPINE OWG SELECTION CRITERIA (Addendum D)

Bodensteiner said that, as the board would recall from the spring, we were on a timeline to approve and distribute to the athletes the Olympic Selection Criteria six months prior to the first selection event. Given the timing of Sölden next fall and the Boardercross World Cup potentially next summer, we were asking for approval of the snowboarding and alpine criteria at this meeting. Subsequently, at our next meeting of the board in the spring, we would present our final selection criteria for approval.

He stated that the means by which we were selecting all of these teams was very similar and consistent with what we did in Vancouver. We had a very successful selection process leading into those Games. We haven't found much reason to change that, with the exception in snowboarding that we had an additional sport to select from – also a bigger athlete quota, which required that we make some modifications to that criteria to accommodate that additional team.

The mechanism for selecting the teams remained the same as it had been in the last couple of Olympics with the halfpipe and slopestyle events being selected through our own events and the Grand Prix, and Boardercross and parallel snowboarding being selected through World Cup results.

The committee that put the criteria together both in alpine and snowboarding did a skillful job and had great participation from the athlete reps as well as the sport committee chairmen. One of the important pieces that we put into the snowboarding criteria was really an evaluation of our international level of performance across the different disciplines and, as a result, we made some modifications to reduce the objective evaluation, particularly in parallel snowboarding, to allow ourselves a bit more coaches’ discretion. Mechanically and in principal these are much the same criteria with some minor tweaks which you have seen as you've done your reviews.

The alpine side really had no significant changes from what we did in 2010. The only section of language that we had to replace from 2010 was the conflict of interest section, which was in there essentially for any conflict a member of the selection working group would have in making those selections; i.e. if your athlete representative was an actively competing athlete trying out for a slot on the Olympic team; in that instance, the athlete would need to be replaced. Bodensteiner confirmed that the USSA did not have any of those conflicts at this point, but that language was in there as a protection.

Bodensteiner said that concluded his overview, and that he would like to present the criteria for approval. Natt said that we would move approval of both criteria together.

Motion # 3: Motion to ratify the alpine and snowboarding OWG selection criteria as submitted.

M/S/C Jon Casson/John Bucksbaum, approved by acclamation.

Paine stated that Bodensteiner had the always pleasant task of discussing the dues and fees for FY 13/14.

USSA MEMBERSHIP DUES STRUCTURE FY 13/14 (Addendum E)

Bodensteiner stated that it would be a simple discussion this year. He said that changes had been made at the last fall meeting and the increased fee and head taxes went into place this year. They certainly took some management to push those out and to gain acceptance and he added that we’d done well on that front. But, we recommend that we take some time now and let those fees stabilize and come back with an evaluation that we will do next summer regarding fees, but at this point, he would recommend to leave those flat.

Natt stated that there was no need for motion. Paine said that he would move this action since he had just paid his daughters membership fees. Natt replied that a motion was unnecessary but to have the minutes reflect that the board supported the decision of the staff to leave the fees as they are for FY ’13/14.

Questions from the Board

Bob Dart asked if we saw an increase in the FY ’14/15 going forward or would we see what the membership numbers looked like before we adjusted any more fees? Bodensteiner replied that what we did was a continuous internal evaluation of our fees and dues structure and given that they were coming active right now, we wanted to see where we were headed before making any further decisions or recommendations.
Jon Engen suggested that to add a quick note on the subject, for the fallout that we had especially on the head tax and fees last spring, on this subject; at the spring conference, if we could have a person from the management team visit the sport committee and briefly explain what the impacts were so that you were explaining the reasons for the increase rather than appearing an arbitrary decision. It would be helpful, he said, because the membership feels they should have a direct say on this. The last time required a lot of unnecessary disgruntled action. I just wanted to see if something like this would be possible.

Bodensteiner said that he would note that and he appreciated that feedback. Many of you probably also saw the opportunity we took with Ski Racing to explain member revenue vs. expenses. But I agree that that was a useful exercise to do in person.

9. Chairman's Closing Comments & Motion to Adjourn the Board Meeting: Dexter Paine

Paine closed the meeting stating that he had never seen the organization busier or as focused on athletes as they were right now. It was pretty remarkable; and you never knew how seasons were going to turn out with injuries and so on that impact teams’ performances, but he thought that we were really well prepared and a lot of thought had gone into how to maintain that success over the next decade, whether the endowment or the CEO search, or the work we would undertake with McKinsey – it’s all about how we make this organization better for every kid, whether they are snowboarders, skiers, nordic, or freeskiers ten years from now. Also, how do we have athletes who are executing at peak levels but also are successful after they leave the team? He said it was a really exciting time, but that we had to keep all the balls in the air. But, he praised the entire team in Park City for tackling all these things at the same time.

Paine asked if there were any more comments or questions by anyone. Hearing none, Paine wished everyone a great winter and hoped that we would have the kind of athletic success that we had last year, and he appreciated everyone taking the time today to participate.

Natt requested a motion to adjourn.

Motion # 4: To adjourn the USSA Fall Board of Directors' Meeting.

The qualification procedures for the tryout events will be finalized and published by June 30, 2013 and shall be available on the USSA website: www.ussa.org

1.3. Athletes shall be nominated to the team based on the following process:

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) has determined that a maximum of Twenty Four (24) athletes representing any one nation may compete in the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in snowboarding. The maximum number of athletes named to the U.S. team will be up to the maximum team size of Twenty Four (24), with a maximum of fourteen (14) athletes per gender. The maximum quota for a nation in any one (1) event per gender will be four (4). Athletes named to the team will start in the event for which they qualified.

The objective criteria for each discipline outlined below are subject to the U.S. earning those Olympic Nations Quota Starts, in the respective discipline, through the International Ski Federation (FIS) Olympic Nations Quota World Ranking List.

After the objective criteria have been applied, any unfilled quota slots will be filled via discretionary selection outlined in Section 2 of these procedures.

Objective Criteria Halfpipe

1. Up to three (3) Halfpipe athletes per gender who have had a top four (4) result, against the entire competition field, in the selection events will be named to the Olympic team. If more than three (3) athletes, in either gender, have had a top four (4) result then ties will be broken as follows:

Athletes will score selection points, based on their results in each selection event, using the FIS World Cup point scoring system (1000 point scale). Only athletes that are US citizens, and are USSA members in good standing, will be included when assigning selection points. At the conclusion of the selection events, each athlete’s best (highest) two (2) results will be combined to create a ranking list* for nomination in each gender.    a. Single highest point result during the selection events
   b. Second highest point result during the selection events
   c. Third best point result during selection events
   d. Fourth best point result during selection events
   e. Total selection points (total points earned in all selection events)

* The ranking list will be created by combining the point allocations from each athlete's two best results, utilizing the FIS World Cup point scoring system (1000 point scale), even if one or more selection events are cancelled due to weather or other circumstances beyond the control of USSA.

Objective Criteria Slopestyle

1. Up to three (3) Slopestyle men and two (2) Slopestyle women athletes, who have had a top four (4) result, against the entire competition field, in the selection events will be named to the Olympic team. If more than three (3) men and two (2) women athletes have had a top four (4) result then ties will be broken as follows:

2.3.1. Specify the process that will be used to identify and handle any potential conflicts of interest involving a member of the committee.

Conflicts of interest may arise for Selection Committee Members during the team selection process. Conflicts of interest exist when a Selection Committee member stands to benefit privately from a decision made by the Selection Committee. A conflict may arise, but is not limited to, when a Selection Committee Member is in a position to participate in discussion or a vote concerning an athlete whom he or she coaches or trains privately who is being considered for a position on the Team. In the interest of assuring a fair selection process, the following rules will be followed by the Selection Committee when a conflict of interest arises:

Any member of the selection committee that has a possible conflict of interest must disclose it. If such conflict exists, the selection committee member must recuse him/herself from committee discussions and voting. Further, the committee member should not otherwise influence other members of the committee in the nomination process. However, a committee member who recused him/herself, but who has relevant and necessary information with respect to athlete performance, for example a national team coach or high performance director, may, if requested by the selection committee, provide such information to the committee so long as such information is provided in a fair and unbiased manner.

3. REMOVAL OF ATHLETES

US Ski & Snowboard Association (USSA)
ALPINE SKIING ATHLETE SELECTION PROCEDURES
2014 OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES

September 12, 2012

1. SELECTION SYSTEM

1.1 Minimum eligibility requirements for an athlete to be considered for nomination to the Team:

1.1.1 Nationality/Passport requirements:

Athlete must be a national of the United States at the time of selection.

Athlete must hold a valid U.S. passport that will not expire for six months after the conclusion of the Games.

1.1.2 Minimum International Olympic Committee (IOC) standards for participation:

Any competitor in the Olympic Games must be a national of the country of the National Olympic Committee (NOC) which is entering such competitor. For additional information regarding an athlete who is a national of two or more countries, has changed his or her nationality or acquired a new nationality, refer to the IOC Charter (Rule 42).

1.1.3 Minimum International Ski Federation (FIS) standards for participation (if any):

Competitors are eligible for nomination that are ranked within the top 500 in the respective event of the FIS Points list published at the end of the qualification period (January 28, 2014). In Downhill, Super Combined Downhill and Super-G, the competitors must have a maximum of 120 FIS points in the event concerned to be eligible.

1.1.4 Other requirements:

USSA will consider for nomination only those USSA members in good standing with a valid FIS license.

1.2 Tryout Events:

1.2.1 Event names, dates and locations of all competitions to be used as part of the selection process.

All FIS World Cup alpine races between October 15, 2013 through January 28, 2014 (the "selection period"). The schedule of competitions will be posted at www.fisski.com when approved.

1.2.2 Event names, dates, locations and description of how athletes qualify for the events listed above in 1.2.1.

Qualification criteria for the FIS Alpine World Cups for 2013/2014 will be published at www.ussa.org.
Athletes shall be nominated to the team based on the following process:

There will be a maximum of twenty-two (22) athletes representing the United States in the 2014 Olympic Winter Games, with a maximum of fourteen athletes (14) per gender. For specific qualification system rules for establishing team size, go to www.fisski.com.

Up to four (4) male and four (4) female athletes may start for the United States in each event. The top two athletes to qualify in each event under the objective criteria below will be assured of a start in that event. Additional starts will be filled at the discretion of the coaching staff.

Up to three (3) athletes for each event (Men’s and Women’s Downhill, Men’s and Women’s Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Giant Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Super-G) and up to two (2) athletes in Men’s and Women’s Super Combined may be nominated to the OWG Team based solely upon their FIS Alpine World Cup results during the selection period provided these athletes fit into the IOC/FIS maximum team size requirement. Criteria for objective selection shall be as follows, in order of priority:

1. One or more top three (3) finishes. Athletes with a top three (3) FIS Alpine World Cup finish in an event shall be nominated to the OWG Team for that event, unless application of this criterion would result in a total of more than three (3) objective selections for the event (Men’s and Women’s Downhill, Men’s and Women’s Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Giant Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Super-G) or a total of more than two (2) objective selections in Men’s and Women’s Super Combined or the application of this criteria would exceed total team size, in which case USSA shall use the following tie-breaking mechanisms in order:

   a) Ranked by best FIS point result in FIS Alpine World Cup races in the particular event (race points and penalty)
   b) Ranked by total FIS Alpine World Cup points in the event.

2. One or more top ten (10) finishes. Athletes with one (1) top ten (10) FIS Alpine World Cup finish in an event shall be nominated to the OWG Team for that event, unless application of this criterion would result in a total of more than three (3) objective selections for the event (Men’s and Women’s Downhill, Men’s and Women’s Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Giant Slalom, Men’s and Women’s Super-G) or a total of more than two (2) objective selections in Men’s and Women’s Super Combined or the application of this criteria would exceed total team size, in which case USSA shall use the following tie-breaking mechanisms in order:

   a) Ranked by best FIS point result in FIS Alpine World Cup races in the particular event (race points and penalty)
   b) Ranked by total FIS Alpine World Cup points in the event.

3. Total FIS Alpine World Cup Points in an event. If fewer than two (2) athletes are nominated to the OWG Team for an event based upon the criteria numbered (1) through (2) above, then the athlete with the highest total FIS Alpine World Cup points in that event shall be nominated to the OWG Team if it does not exceed total team size. If two (2) or more athletes tie for the highest total FIS Alpine World Cup points, then USSA shall use the following tie-breaking mechanism:

   a) Ranked by best FIS point result in FIS Alpine World Cup races in the particular event (race points and penalty).
If, after application of criterion number (3) above, fewer than two (2) athletes have been nominated to the team for an event, then criterion number (3) shall be applied again, if possible (i.e., -- if there are remaining athletes with FIS Alpine World Cup points), to ensure that a total of two (2) athletes are nominated to the team for the event.

4. Decreasing Team Size. If, after application of the above criterion more athletes are identified objectively than the allowable maximum team size then USSA shall use the following tie breaking mechanisms in order among the third (3rd) objective selections across events.

   a) Ranked by highest FIS Alpine World Cup placing.
   b) Ranked by total FIS Alpine World Cup points earned in an event.
   c) Ranked by best FIS point result in FIS Alpine World Cup races in an event (race points and penalty).

   The Athletes with the lowest point total will not be selected to the team.

5. If team positions remain open after application of criteria 1-4 above, the discretionary selection may be used (see Section 2. below) to determine additional nominations.

2. DISCRETIONARY SELECTION

2.1. Rationale for utilizing discretionary selection:

   Athletes (including those not selected objectively due to illness or injury) may be recommended by the USSA Alpine Head Coaches for selection to the team via discretion if they satisfy any of the following, and have indicated the potential for Olympic success.

   - Outstanding competition results from the 2012/2013 or 2013/2014 seasons.
   - Recent positive direction or trend of competition results indicating a potential for Olympic success.
   - Indication of medal potential in future Olympic or World Championship competition (such as international age group results and rankings) that would be materially enhanced by selection to team.

2.2 Committee that will be responsible for making discretionary selections, along with a complete list of the members’ titles currently serving on the committee:

   Bill Marolt  USSA President and CEO
   Luke Bodensteiner  USSA Executive Vice President, Athletics
   Patrick Riml  USSA Alpine Director
   Scott McCartney  USSA Athlete Representative

2.2.1 Process that will be used to identify and handle any potential conflicts of interest involving a member of the committee.

   Conflicts of interest may arise for Selection Committee Members during the team selection process. Conflicts of interest exist when a Selection Committee member stands to benefit privately from a decision made by the Selection Committee. A conflict may arise, but is not limited to, when a Selection Committee Member is in a position to participate in discussion or a vote concerning an athlete whom he or she coaches or trains privately who is being considered for a position on the Team. In the interest of assuring a fair selection process, the following rules will be followed by the Selection Committee when a conflict of interest arises:

Any member of the selection committee that has a possible conflict of interest must disclose it. If such conflict exists, the selection committee member must recuse him/herself from committee discussions and voting. Further, the committee member should not otherwise influence other members of the committee in the nomination process. However, a committee member who recused him/herself, but who has relevant and necessary information with respect to athlete performance, for example a national team coach or high performance director, may, if requested by the selection committee, provide such information to the committee so long as such information is provided in a fair and unbiased manner.

3. REMOVAL OF ATHLETES

Failure to comply with any of the above provisions may lead to disciplinary action by the appropriate team or competition leader. Disciplinary action may include:

- Removal from the team trip or training camp.
- Suspension from training and/or competition.
- Elimination of coaching, travel, and other benefits.
- Forfeiture of USSA membership.

USSA is committed to principles of fairness, due process and equal opportunity. Members are entitled to be treated fairly and in compliance with USSA’s Bylaws, policies and procedures. Members are entitled to notice and an opportunity for a hearing before being prevented from participating in protected competition as that term is defined by the USOC Bylaws. Information on the processes for grievances, suspensions and appeals is available at www.ussa.org.

Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to restrict the individual freedom of a USSA member in matters not involving activities in which one could not be perceived as representing USSA. In choices of appearance, lifestyle, behavior and speech while not representing USSA, competitors shall have complete freedom, provided their statements and actions do not adversely affect the name and reputation of the USSA.
